Back to School

This is our first meeting since we've been back to school. It is wonderful to have everyone back. In some ways, it has been a smooth opening. In others, it's not been an entirely easy start to the year.

- Summer optimism left us not thinking we'd be returning to school with the current health metrics. Guidance and information from DESE is coming very late (they shared similar optimism, I think) and we are making adjustments as we are able.
- Navigating a lot (again) and putting the pieces back together. Transportation, facilities rental, indoor gatherings, fundraisers, athletics, educator evaluation, safety -- everything requires some measure of re-evaluation of our practices and re-orientation for everyone.
- We have seen a lot of flux with student enrollment and house sales have been pretty steady through August. 23 overall more students at elementary than expected, but we have flux of about 125 students. 217 single family homes turned over by August 19.

Highlights:

- Classes have commenced and schools have been holding classes and services
- Administrators are hosting grade level and school meetings
- Picture days are starting
- Fire drills are occurring with the partnership of Franklin Fire Department
- Ben Franklin has been visiting
- School spirit days are occurring
- High school athletics is underway at Franklin High School
- Anticipate extracurricular activities and clubs to begin in October
- PCCs are beginning to host back to school events
